

IHAS NEWS

That they may be called trees of righteousness, the planting of the Lord; that He may be glorified! Isaiah 61:3

OUTDOOR SCHOOL

13 students, two teachers, two parents, one pastor, and one Mr. Wright enjoyed (and survived) outdoor school in the Black Hills last week. The theme was "Digging Deep" with the academic focus being dinosaurs and fossils and the spiritual emphasis being digging deep into God's Word and developing a faith in Jesus Christ. IHAS learned Hebrews 11:1-3 through song and helped teach it to the rest of the folk at outdoor school. On Tuesday we had classes at the camp taught by the Dakota Conference teachers. On Wednesday, we took an all-day field trip to a fossil museum, a mammoth dig site, and Evan's Plunge hot springs water park. We made our way back to Dickinson on Thursday morning. A huge thanks goes to the parents, pastor, and Mr. Wright for going along and making the load lighter!

SPIRIT AWARD

Mrs. Wright left some dirty dishes by the sink in the classroom one day. The next morning Sa-El washed them all up without being asked.

CHUCKLE BIT

Little Johnny's teacher asked him to make a sentence using the words: defeat, deduct, defense, and detail. Little Johnny wrote: Defeat of deduct went over defense before detail.

FOOD DRIVE

We will be hitting the neighborhoods of Dickinson next week (Wednesday, October 4) to distribute grocery bags and a flyer requesting that the community join us in showering the Veteran's Closet (and Amen Food Pantry if there is enough) with nonperishable food and toiletry items. We invite parents and homeschoolers to join us so we can get maximum coverage. We will go out again on Monday, October 9 to gather the bags that are left out for the food drive.
